New York and Michigan Elections.

Democracy Triumphant!

We can scarcely find words to express our joy at the result of the elections which have just been held in the above named states. The results have exceeded our most sanguine expectations, and the welcome tidings of so many glorious and unexpected victories have reached us in such rapid succession that we almost doubt the truth of our unvarying success. But yesterday our political firmament was set thick with the dark and lowering clouds of popular error, and the phrenzy of misguided zeal and misplaced confidence had well nigh held captive the reason of a thinking people. But those gloomy harbingers of impending ruin have disappeared—the sky of our political prospects is becoming calm and serene—reason is left unchained by the fetters of prejudice and party deceit, and proclaims her final irrevocable decision. The people truly have had their “second sober thought.” Bewildered for a while by the glare and show of pretended patriotism, they suffered themselves to be used as the creatures of fraud and deceit, but no longer intoxicated by the mad excitement of a hard cider convention, or the false promises of designing demagogues, they have been left free to see that they were the dupes of intrigue and flattery, and whilst turning with contempt to the disgusting scenes of their former infatuation, they tell in a voice of thunder a tale of denunciation and disappointment. The gorgeous parade and martial pomp of assembled thousands may serve for a while to dazzle the understanding and deprive it of its sway, but as the deafening shouts of enthusiasm cease to be heard, it leaves the intoxicated spectator to regard himself with shame and mortification, and to reject their influence with disgust and hatred. Such was the influence which was exerted during our late presidential canvass. Such were the means that were used to gull and entrap a credulous people into the meshes of whiggery—means that unfortunately for our standing as an intelligent and enlightened nation answered too well the object of their invention. But they have been productive of at least one good result—in destroying all confidence in the professions of a party whose only aim was power, and who disregarded all honest considerations in its acquisition. The tale that has been told in the last few weeks and months is a death knell to the prospects of Federalism it is hoped for years to come. Let either a Scott or a Clay be the object of its idolatry—a crown skin or a cider barrel the badge of its reforming power, it is to be trusted that all will be ineffectual in working upon the fancy of an intelligent people. The verdict of public will has been given—the people have acknowledged themselves the victims of hypocrisy and intrigue—they have seen the most solemn professions and promises disregarded—they have witnessed a useless expenditure of their money—an utter violation of pledges that would have been held sacred by demons; they have seen crime rewarded and virtue persecuted—trammels before unknown, imposed upon the proceedings of their legislative bodies. In a word, they have beheld the commission of the most daring outrages upon all that they esteem dear and inviolate.

Can we then be surprised that the indignant voice of their denunciation is heard? But hear the New York Herald. In speaking of the defeat in that state, and the causes that have led to such astounding results, it says:—“The democrats have swept over the State like a tornado. There is no doubt of the perfect re-establishment of the democratic ascendancy in every branch of the government within reach of the popular will. The House of Assembly is democratic by a very great majority, the Senate is democratic, and the aggregate popular majority is immense and overwhelming. Who are the men, and what are the measures, that are thus unequivocally, and in tones of thunder, condemned by the voice of an intelligent, indignant and patriotic people? And what are the causes which have led to this astounding result? Upon Mr. Clay and his partisans, the pipe-layers—upon Gov. Seward and Weed, and the whole host of anti-masonic demagogues, is the stamp of public reprobation indelibly fixed. Their professions of patriotism are derided—their principles and system of policy repudiated, and all are overwhelmed in remediless ruin. A National Bank is emphatically rejected and condemned, and the unhalloved attempt of Seward and Weed to mix up religion with politics, and operate upon the honest Catholics through the instrumentality of the Bishop and his coadjutors, is rebuked and put down forever. The reckless and extravagant system of internal improvement prosecuted by the Seward administration—the bare faced corruption practised in the disposition and sale of offices, and the general demoralization that has crept into every part of the State Government, are all condemned by the people. A whig defeat was expected, but the majority is immense, far outrunning the anticipations of the most sanguine democrat in the land.”

We have not received full returns as yet from all the counties in the state, but enough to convince us that the democracy have carried the day by an overwhelming majority. The Journal of Commerce however says:—

We have returns from the larger portion of the State, and as yet only one Whig is ascertained to be elected! The following table shows the results in the different counties, so far as we know, and also the changes from last year.

The Assembly consists of 128 members; of whom, last year, 66 are Whigs, and 62 Van Buren men. This year the whigs, will be in a lean minority. So we go.

From all that we can gather we have a majority in both branches of the legislature—and a tremendous increase in our favor of the popular vote. The Republican estimates the whig loss at about 50,000 in the state.

In Michigan we have elected Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and have a majority in the legislature and a great majority of the popular vote.

From the proceedings of a Democratic meeting in St. Charles county, which we publish in this week's paper, it will be seen that the Hon. Ezra Hunt, who has long stood as conspicuous for the stability and correctness of his political principles, as for his legal acquirements, is placed before the people as being worthy of nomination at our State Convention for a seat in the Congress of the United States.

Mr. JAMES BOYD, a gentleman in St. Charles County, was thrown from his horse last week, and his head so seriously fractured as to occasion his death upon the following day.

A new paper has recently been established in Bowling Green, Pike county, Missouri, called the “RADICAL,” published by A. H. & G. W. Buckner. The principles of this paper are democratic. We are not sufficiently acquainted with the patronage afforded in that quarter, to form any opinion whether the “RADICAL,” in addition to the “JOURNAL,” an old and thorough-going democratic paper can be well supported.—We wish all our brother typos success, of course.—[Jeffersonian Republican.]

We are truly thankful for the kind wishes of our Jefferson friend, but would beg leave to undeceive him as to the “new paper” to which he alludes. By reference to our prospectus in another column, he will discover that the “RADICAL” is nothing more than the old “Journal” in a new dress. As to the possibility of supporting two Democratic papers in this section of the country, we look upon it as rather dubious, tho’ our folks are a democracy loving people and can’t be induced to believe that they can have too much of it.

The Hon. Mr. Downing, late delegate in Congress from Florida, died a short time since in the Territory.

We learn from the last Nashville Whig that William S. Mosely, Esq., the prosecuting attorney for the Helena (Arkansas) district, was assassinated on the highway, in St. Francis county, Arkansas, on the 23d ultimo. He was at the time, on the road to church, alone. The assassin or assassins had erected a blind, from behind which they shot him; several buckshot passing through his head and shoulders.—[Rep.]

APPOINTMENT.—Mr. Wm. M. Mitchell has been appointed postmaster at Hannibal, Mo., vice, Wm. E. Strode, Esq., resigned.

FLORA.—The New York Commercial Advertiser, estimates the stock of Flour now in store in that city at 150,000 bbls. against 50,000 bbls. at this time last year.

At Cincinnati, on the 1st inst., Flour was selling at $5.25 per bbl., and Whiskey at 15c. per gallon.

Will Col. Davis of the Paris Sentinel let us know why we have failed to receive the last two or three numbers of his interesting paper? Colonel never forget your old neighbors.

AFFECTING.—A gentleman passing by the jail of a country town heard one of the prisoners through the grates of his cell, singing in the softest and most melodious tones, that favorite song—“Home, sweet Home.” His sympathies were very much excited in favor of the unfortunate tenant of the dungeon; and upon enquiring the cause of his incarceration, was informed that he was put in jail for beating his wife.—[Knoxville Post.]

Flour sold at Richmond, Va. on the 30th, at $6 a $6 25—principal sales at $6 12 1-2.

POETICAL.

AUTUMN.

Though once enamored with the Spring—
Its pleasure and its bloom,
The pensive muse prefers to sing,
And touch the more congenial string,
Of Autumn's pleasing gloom.

She comes with all her sober train
The crown the changing year;
The juicy fruit, and shining grain
Are scattered o'er the hills and plain,
To strengthen and to cheer.

Of late, the meadows, and the field,
And forest, waved in green;
The numerous flowers the garden yields,
Though long in embryo concealed,
In perfect bloom were seen.

Then to the verdant, shady grove,
The tuneful race resort;
Chanting their sweetest notes of love,
The birds in amorous gestures strove
Their partners' smiles to court.

But now these sprightly scenes are gone,
And Summer's joys are fled;
Nature, of all her flow'rets shorn,
Her motley colored garb puts on,
Of yellow, brown, and red.

And now the feathered choir no more
Their notes in concert blend;
But in assembling flocks appear,
Prepared their southern course to steer,
Ere wintry storms descend.

The enlightened eye can still survey
The scene, without regret—
Can view the sun's departing ray,
That gilds the last autumnal day,
And witness his retreat.

The russet hue the meadows wear,
The fading, falling leaf,
The gathered products of the year,
Though numerous tribes demand their share,
For man appears the chief.

From him the various seasons roll,
And in their time return;
Under the wise and firm control
Of Him who gave the immortal soul,
And reason to discern.

So life's successive seasons fly—
Its winter, too, will come;
And man is warned to turn his eye
To future scenes beyond the sky—
His long, eternal home.

The Methodist Quarterly Meeting will be held in this place on the 4th of December.

PROSPECTUS

OF A

WEEKLY POLITICAL NEWSPAPER,

CALLED

“THE RADICAL,”

Published in Bowling Green, Missouri.

The above will be the title of an old paper under a new name to be published in Bowling Green, Mo., by the undersigned. With the change of name there will be no change in the political course of the paper. “THE RADICAL” will pursue the same course as has heretofore been pursued by the “Salt River Journal.” It will advocate a strict and rigid interpretation of the constitution as the best safeguard of the rights of the people and of the states, and as the only guarantee of the durability of our union. It will oppose the exercise of all doubtful powers by Congress, and as a necessary consequence will wage an uncompromising war against a National Bank, whatever name it may assume—against a protective tariff, as wrong in itself and dangerous to the harmony of the members of the National Confederacy—and against the attempt to bribe the indebted states into the support of the Federal Party by a distribution of the proceeds of the sales of the public lands among the states.

The undersigned are desirous to extend the circulation of the “RADICAL,” and with this view no effort will be spared to render it acceptable to the Democracy of this portion of the State.—From them we have to look for much the larger proportion of our patronage, and we shall strive to make our sheet worthy of their support and of the great principles it advocates. The terms of subscription have been reduced so as to make it one of the cheapest papers in the State; and, if not the best, we intend that it shall be inferior to none in every thing that constitutes an able and interesting paper.

The first number of the “RADICAL” will be issued on Saturday, the 6th of November, on a sheet of a size of the “Journal,” but with considerable improvements. A large portion of it will be in smaller type—thereby adding to its appearance and to the quantity of reading matter.

The terms will be $2 to a club of 3 or more subscribers, paid in advance. $2.50 to a single subscriber, if paid within 6 months, and $3 if not paid till after that period.

PROSPECTUS

OF A

MORAL, RELIGIOUS, & AGRICULTURAL NEWSPAPER,

CALLED THE

“OLIVE BRANCH.”

PUBLISHED IN BOWLING GREEN, MISSOURI,

At One Dollar per annum.

Encouraged by the liberal patronage bestowed upon the “OLIVE BRANCH,” the undersigned has made arrangements to enlarge it to double its former size. At the commencement of our undertaking, we desired it to be distinctly understood, that we were pledged to no particular sect, and that in no case, we should meddle with politics. We shall continue to occupy the same ground. Sectarianism has been too often destructive to the peace, harmony, and union of the followers of Christ, while the pure and elevated principles of Christianity have as frequently been contaminated by being mingled in the turmoil and strife of party politics. We shall endeavor to avoid both, as heretofore, and we shall only vary our original design, in devoting a larger portion of the enlarged sheet to the interests of the farmer. We have received no small portion of our patronage from that class, our population, and as we look upon Agriculture in some measure, as the handmaid to religion and morality, in doing so, we shall be only indirectly carrying out our former plan. It is a subject too, the importance of which, both professors of religion, and non-professors, unite in acknowledging, and inasmuch, as we have been, contrary to our expectations much more liberally encouraged by the latter, than by the former, we shall endeavor to adapt our sheet more to their wants and taste—taking care at the same time, that this shall only be secondary to our main design—that of Religion and Morality.

STEPHEN B. WHEELER, JOHN DUNHAM, JORDAN DUNHAM, FRANCIS J. BEVAN, JOHN C. MCKENNEY, Defendants.

Now, at this day, appears said complainant by W. V. Banic his solicitor, and files his bill of complaint. The object and general nature, of which is as follows to wit: said defendant, Stephen B. Wheeler executed a Mortgage to said complainant, which is dated the 3rd day of February 1840, conveying to him said complainant certain real estate of said defendant, to secure the payment, of about nineteen hundred and fifty dollars, it being the residue of the purchase money of said real estate, which had been sold by said complainant to said defendant, Stephen B. Wheeler, that said money is due and unpaid, and praying that said Stephen B. Wheeler be made a Defendant to said bill, and that said Court decree that the Equity of redemption of the said Stephen B. Wheeler be foreclosed, and the mortgage premises sold to satisfy the amount of the residue of said purchase money of said real estate, which is situate in Warren County in Missouri, and that the premises are occupied by John Dunham, Jordan Dunham, Francis J. ## MISSOURI REPORTER

THE undersigned, under the firm of PENN & VAN ANTWERP, proposes to publish a newspaper in St. Louis. It will be their aim to give early intelligence of passing events, and frequent satisfactory notices of the principal markets of the country, with an accurate Price Current of this city. The paper will be utilitarian—the champion of all constitutional measures designed to lessen the dangers of navigation, and protect and cherish the vast inland commerce of which St. Louis must be regarded as the centre.

A portion of the Columns of the Reporter will be devoted to Literature and Poetry, for the gratification of those who consider variety the spice of life; and another portion to agricultural interests, and improvements calculated to develop the varied and unequalled resources of Missouri, Illinois, &c., and the superior advantages of St. Louis—a city destined in a very few years to eclipse all her sisters of the west.

The politics of the Reporter will be decidedly Democratic—but whilst it will only and fearlessly maintain the just and moral principles of the great party of which it is to be an humble organ, its course will ever be strictly decorous. Abuse makes no converts; virulence only serves to weaken a good cause. It is therefore our fixed determination to exclude personalities; as far as it may be possible to do so, and uniformly to decline the publication of articles unnecessarily inflammatory, or calculated to produce broils, sectional jealousies or schisms in the party with which we have hitherto acted. Our business will be to follow, not to lead; to exert our energies to promote harmony throughout the great Democratic family; to impress upon the minds of our political brethren the vital but sometimes disregarded truth—in union there is strength.

The first number of the REPORTER will be issued about the fifteenth of December next. It will be somewhat larger than the Washington Globe or Intelligencer, and will be published on the following terms:

Daily paper, half yearly in advance, --- $10 00
Semi-weekly, in advance, --- 5 00
Weekly, --- do --- 3 00

It is understood, however that the subscribers will not be called upon to pay before they received the first number of the paper. Advertisements will be inserted annually, or otherwise, at the usual rates.

Arrangements are in progress which will enable us to add the subscription list of the Argus to that of the Reporter.

V. P. VAN ANTWERP.
